49 FEET 5 INCHES

This Morning—Ohio River Going Back to Normal Conditions

The present flood has done its worst, and after reaching its highest point early yesterday morning began receding, the gage marks 47.5 this morning, having fallen 2 feet in the past twenty-four hours. No serious damage has been done and we are very thankful in escaping as we did, even though it was a shave and gave a good many a big scare for a time at least.

During the day the water will have receded off of Limestone and Bridge streets, and the streetcars will have resumed regular runs without transferring at the latter street.

THE THRICE-A-WEEK WORLD

In the presidential campaign year more alert, more thorough and more fearless than ever. Read in every English-speaking country.

A President of the United States will be elected this year. Who is he and who is the man whom he will best? Nobody yet knows, but the Thrice-a-Week edition of the New York World will tell you every step and every detail of what promises to be a campaign of the most absorbing interest. It may not tell you what you hope, but it will tell you what is. The Thrice-a-Week World long ago established a character for impartiality and fearlessness in the publication of news, and this it will maintain. If you want the news as it really is subscribe to the Thrice-a-Week edition of the New York World, which comes to you every other day except Sunday, and is thus practically a daily at the price of a weekly.

The Thrice-a-Week World's regular subscription price is only $1 per year, and this pays for 156 papers.

Mr. Joseph O'Donnell, who has been in ill health for some time, had a serious attack yesterday afternoon at the home of his mother in Bridge street, and for a time his condition was grave. With proper treatment he rallied in a short time. He is reported this morning is still critically ill.

Yesterday afternoon two hoboes were given the grand bounce and ordered to leave the city by Chief Ort. They were escorted to the city limits by Officer Senteney and instructed to move on. Maysville is a bad town for this class to strike; they are generally rounded up by the Police in short order and made to move on.

James W. Parrish, the largest tobacco grower in Central Kentucky, and one of the wealthiest citizens of Woodford county, who was sued by the Burley Society for $5,000 damages for the sale of an alleged pooled crop, has advertised his 900-acre farm and his handsome residence for sale. The house cost over $30,000 and has never been occupied.

Being obliged to close out my stock of merchandise, a rare opportunity is presented to cash purchasers for anything in my line, consisting of Groceries, Canned Goods, Tin Ware, Hardware, China Ware, Jewellery, Racket Goods, &c., &c., Show Cases, Store Fixtures, &c., &c. However great the sacrifice, all must go at once, singly or in lots. To the country merchant, this is an opportunity of a lifetime.

Make Prices That Will Sell the Goods, But GET the Money

Our $9.50 Suit Sale has been a very popular one. The Suits marked $9.50 that you see displayed in our East Window were never built to sell at even double that figure. Any one with only meager judgment can readily recognize the extraordinary values we are offering for that money.

On our Overcoats and other wear, if we please you the price will be a secondary condition. Come in and let us show you.

OFF THE TRACK

Big L. and N. Freight Engine Ditched Yesterday—Traffic Delayed

Yesterday noon engine No. 777 pulling a freight on the L. and N., when about to take the siding at the roundhouse struck a split frog and left the rails, tearing up the track for quite a distance and burying the port side of the locomotive in a cinder walk up to the axle of the wheels. No one was hurt.

The damage was not so much as the delay in traffic. The track was blocked and the passengers and express matter had to be transferred to a point beyond the accident where another train was in waiting and made the Southbound trip.

Everything was in shipshape this morning and business has resumed as usual.

The soggy condition of the ground owing to heavy rains, has made the track in places rather shaky, and extreme care is demanded of train crews in making their runs during the wet spring season. Notwithstanding due care, accidents will happen.

MISS HELEN GOULD declares that it would require an annual income of $125,000,000 to satisfy all the requests she receives. But Miss HELEN doubtless remembers that castles in the air are built without costing a single cent. Many of us dwell in these airy mansions and they are the finest abodes in the world. And every one has one or more.

ALAS! Vanity of vanities, all is vanity! If Judge JAMES HARGIS could awake from his eternal siesta on the Panhandle, overlooking the winding and pictureque Kentucky river, walk and into Jackson, he would see a big change in the looks of things. He would see his big store in the possession of new owners, he would see the $8,000 which he paid to Mrs. ABRELIA MARCUM for the murder of her husband, invested in a grocery store and doing a land office business; he would also see his closest friend, Judge REDWINE, defending BEACH HARGIS for murdering him, the Judge. Some strange things eventuate in old Breathitt, and ignorance and whisky are at the bottom of all the trouble.

MASS MEETING

Rev. William Shaw at First Presbyterian Church Tonight

The Union League of Christian Endeavors will hold a mass meeting at the First Presbyterian Church this evening at 7:30.

Rev. William Shaw of Boston, General Secretary of the International Society of Christian Endeavors, will address the meeting. Lexington is the only other town in Kentucky that he touches.

People are expected from Cincinnati, Newport, Covington and Ashland for the meeting tonight.

This is a rare opportunity to hear a great speaker.

The following quartette will sing: Dr. Smoot, Mr. Waggett, Mrs. Cummings and Mrs. Baldwin. After the meeting the Young People's Societies will hold a reception in the Sunday-school room in honor of Rev. Shaw.

Everybody invited.

There are eleven widows residing in Third street between Market and Plum streets; four of whom have donned the widow's veil in the past six months.

The show window in the Market street annex of Merz Bros. drygoods establishment has an inviting and inspiring appearance, dressed as it is with Old Glory conspicuously to the fore and prettily fashioned. Hechinger & Co., and J. J. Wood & Son are displaying in plentiful numbers the identical hatchet with which George did the chopping act. They are pleasant and timely reminders that Saturday is the 22d of February, a day to be revered and cherished.

SENATOR BROWN gave notice of an amendment to the Aldrich currency bill, requiring National Banks to pay interest on Government deposits. Why not?

DR. BRUNER will have to get very busy if he stems the Taft tide in this State. It begins to look like the big Secretary will be first, the rest nowhere.—Kentucky State Journal.

THERE are three modes of bearing the ills of life, namely: By indifference, which is the most common; by philosophy, which is the most ostentatious, and by religion, which is the most effectual.—New York Press.

And still another way is to write a special message about them.—Courier-Journal.

And still another way is to write a long editorial "on it."

THERE are people in this State, a good many of whom are in the General Assembly, who seem to think that the most important duty of that body is to enact legislation looking to the prevention of a man taking a drink in Kentucky.

The Saviors
Kentucky!

No wonder the General Assembly cannot find time to do anything to put down the lawlessness of Kukluxism that is now cursing the State.

According to these philanthropists and statesmen, it is more essential that a man's neighbors shall have the power to forbid him drinking a glass of beer, wine or whisky, or even using any of them as medicine, than it is that his person and property shall be protected from the bullets and torches of marauding mobs.—Courier-Journal.

THE NEW TYPEWRITER GIRL

The new typewriter girl, flutters in with a bright smile, and a cheerful "Good morning," pulls the hood from her machine and sets down with a clatter, and opens her mouth whence comes:

"There, that hood always bangs that way. I don't know what makes it. I'm sorry. O, if you don't mind, I'm sure I don't. I haven't any nerves; I never did have any; nerves, I meant. My sister says she envies me. She has nerves; she'll jump if you look at her. Doesn't make any difference whether you're pleasant or not, she jumps just the same. O, yes, I'm ready. Been ready ever so long! Wondered why you didn't begin."

"O, dear! Dear! Mm-mh! There! No, nothing's exactly wrong, but I've spelled enthusiasm with an i, an i, at the beginning don't you know! 'Twould be all right if I'd only put it at the end. Would you mind beginning again at the word enthusiasm? There! There's that interrogation point again coming in where the comma ought to be! It makes the copy look so funny, don't you know. Tek! Tek! I do wish the thing hadn't any pauses at all."

"Is that so? Did I spell crocodile c-r-o-c-i-d-i-l-e? Well, there, I suppose I was thinking. My mother often says that when I'm thinking I don't know a thing. Croc-i-d-i-l-e! Well, it does look funny! Why, yes, I'm all ready to go on. Did you say equatorial Africa? Please spell it! There, there's that interrogation point again; O, dear!"

"Did I put a comma between south and South America? Well, I thought that you were talking about the south, the southern states you know. I can't always tell when you want a comma. Yes, I know you told me not to put in any punctuation marks but to leave it to you, but I get so used to putting them in that it seems as if I must. Don't you think that when you get used to doing anything you keep right on doing it? N-e-u or n-e-w for pneumonia? Why, yes, it does begin with a 'p,' doesn't it? I forgot all about it. Spelling is funny; isn't it? Capital C for conchology? Well, I didn't know, but I'm willing to learn. Conchol—is the next letter 'o' or 'a'? Did I spell ornithology, orathology? Well, I don't think you've given me the word before I've learned it now. It ends 'ig,' does it not? O, g-g-y. Well, live and learn! I shall know next time. Kane? K-a-n-e? The one who killed Abel. I don't want to know what he did but how you spell his name. O, Cain, the one in the garden of Eden? Well, perhaps he wasn't exactly, but you always think of him there, and the serpent and everything."

"Please repeat. I couldn't hear you because I went back to correct. There's something the matter with this ribbon. Is sort of—kind of—well, I don't know what, but it just does, and I have to go back and do it all over again. Isn't it queer how little things bother you sometimes? This ribbon now! Do you pronounce Roosevelt with three syllables or two? Some people only make two of it, don't you know. I think three is better. E-v-e-l-d-t! No there isn't any d in it! I must have been thinking of the South African war! There, that's right! Who's vice president now? No trouble about spelling his name, is there?"

"Did I begin attention with a capital A? Well, I suppose that's because it's a long word. Seems natural to begin a long word with a capital, don't you think. S-I-o-n! Why, no! It's tion, isn't it? I was thinking about the capital and I didn't think."

"Do you put an apostrophe before phone? Some folks don't. Oh, yes, I can put it there; I only wanted to know if you would. I want to do just what you want me to do. My sister-in-law says I always do what I am told. Why, yes, I'll keep still, but I wanted you to know the reason."

Her Weight Cost $43.

In some parts of Hungary it is the custom for the bridegroom to pay a sum to the bride's parents, and in case the parties cannot agree the mayor acts as arbitrator. Mayor Volked, who is a cattle dealer, has had to decide a case of this kind, and after inspecting the bride decided that the bridegroom must pay the parents at the rate of half a dollar for each pound that the bride weighed. This verdict was accepted, and the woman weighing 86 pounds the bridegroom handed over the equivalent of $43, after which the wedding ceremony was performed.

Rheumatism and Meat Eating.

A great many medical authorities take the ground that rheumatism is peculiarly the disease of the flesh eater, and the theory is strengthened by the fact that the further you go south the less rheumatism you find, until when you get into the tropics, where a vegetable food is the rule and people eat very little flesh of any description, there is hardly any rheumatism.—Green's Fruit-Grower.

Street Railway Accidents.

One of the startling facts developed by the public service commission of New York city is that over 200 persons are killed or seriously injured every month by the urban railways under the commission's jurisdiction. The annual toll of deaths in accidents is between 500 and 600.

HAD TO BE MORE EXPLICIT.

"Dear Grandpa" Conveyed Little to Post Office Officials.

A member of the Yale basketball team which played here a night or two ago received a check—a present in three figures—from his grandfather who lives in a New Jersey town. The check, as a matter of fact, was a fake prepared by William L. Lush, the Yale coach, formerly left fielder on the Cleveland baseball team, who was here with the team. But fake or no fake the recipient of the check got mighty excited.

He raced right across the Hollenden lobby to the telegraph desk, the minute he saw the size of the check, and wrote out a telegram as follows: "Dear Grandpa, New Jersey. Thanks very much for check. This is a receipt. Your grandson." He wrote it just that way.

Then he hustled into the writing room to thank grandpa more fully by letter.

While he was preparing the letter a bellboy brought him back his telegram, along with the 30 cents—he had paid to send it—30 in pennies—and this was written across the message: "Can't find anybody named dear grandpa." Then the Yale boy came to.—Cleveland Plain Dealer.

WHY BE CRABBED ABOUT AGE?

One Instance, at Least, in Which It Brought No Good.

At the dinner that the Chicago Press club gave in Edward Payson Weston's honor, the veteran pedestrian said of old age:

"Age is no crime, but you would think so from the way some people try to conceal it. We can give the lie to age by being gay, vigorous, buoyant, and it is foolish of us to resent our burden of years in any other manner."

The aged Ben Davies of St. Joseph resented his years in a foolish, crusty, surly way.

"Hello, old man Davies!" an elderly St. Joseph lawyer said to him one morning.

"Old!" Davies snarled. "Old, hey? Well, how about yourself? I'm no older than you are. What's your earliest recollection?"

The lawyer grinned at old man Davies and replied:

"Well, let me see. Yes, I think that's it. My earliest recollection is hearing folks say: 'There goes old man Davies.'"

Messenger Pigeons.

In taking its observations the messenger pigeon rises to the height varying between 400 and 700 feet, according to the climatic or other local conditions. But, whether the height be 200 or 700 feet, the pigeon flies in a series of circles, but always returns to a central position immediately above the spot from which it has been released. As soon as it has accurately determined its direction it darts off for home. The speed varies according to atmospheric conditions. With a strong wind behind them, they will fly at a velocity of 1,500 or 1,600 yards a minute.

Every Canadian a Villager.

Perhaps every Canadian does not know that he is a "villager," says the London News. For the country owes its name to a curious misconception on the part of M. Jacques Cartier, who is credited with the discovery of the St. Lawrence. He could make but little out of the conversation of the natives, and, hearing them frequently use the word "Kanata," their name for a village, he fell into the mistake of supposing that it was the name of their country. Thus, in more than one sense, has Canada grown from a little village to a great state.

An Unlucky Coin.

"The quarter-dollar," said a numismatist, "should be a very unlucky coin. It is nothing but one mass of thirteens. There are 13 stars on it. There are 13 letters in the scroll that the eagle holds in its claws, there are 13 feathers in the eagle's tail, and there are 13 feathers in its wing. On the shield there are 13 parallel lines, 13 horizontal stripes and 13 arrowheads. Finally, in the word 'quarter-dollar' there are just 13 letters."

GIGANTIC IN SIZE AND WEIGHT.

Biggest Man That Ever Lived Claimed by North Carolina.

"I'll bet none of you folks know that the largest man that ever lived was born and raised in North Carolina," said a Tar Heel. "His existence and dimensions are vouched for in the American encyclopedia."

"His name was Miles Darden. He was seven feet six inches high, and in 1845 weighed 871 pounds. He was born in North Carolina in 1798 and died in Tennessee January 23, 1857. Until 1853 he was able to go about his work in an active manner, but his weight increased so fast that after that year when he wanted to move about he had to be hauled in a two-horse wagon. In 1839 it is chronicled that his coat was buttoned around three men, each weighing more than 200 pounds, who walked together in it down the streets in Lexington, N. C. At his death he is said to have weighed not less than 1,000 pounds. His coffin was 8 feet long, 35 inches deep, 32 inches across the breast, 18 across the head and 14 across the feet. These measurements were taken at the time and are matters of historical record."

YESTERDAY'S BALLOTING.

Allen	1

FRANKFORT, Ky., February 20th.—Speaker Gooch called the joint session to order at 12:12 o'clock. The roll-call disclosed 119 members present.

The vote of the Senators was as follows: Beckham, 16; Bradley, 12; Blackburn, 1; Campbell, 2.

The vote of the House resulted: Beckham, 41; Bradley, 44; Allen, 1; Campbell 2.

Speaker Gooch announced the vote as follows: Beckham,

57; Bradley, 56; Campbell, 4; Allen, 1; Blackburn, 1.

He reported no election.

A huge bouquet of flowers and crepe was on the desk occupied by the late Representative McKnight when the House met this morning.

The election for Representative in Mason county is causing much speculation, and the wires between Maysville and Frankfort are being kept pretty hot by both parties.

AN AGE OF PROGRESS

In Medicine as Well as in Art and Science.

This is an age of progress in the world of medicine as well as in arts and science. This is demonstrated by the remarkable discovery after years of research by two eminent French chemists of the process by which the curative, medicinal elements of the Cod's liver may be separated from the oil, thus getting rid of that nauseating part of this valuable remedy.

In Vinol modern science has given to the world a most delicious cod liver preparation without oil made by a scientific, extractive and concentrating process from fresh cod's livers, combining with peptonate-of-iron all the medicinal, healing, body-building elements of cod liver oil, but no oil.

As a body builder and strength creator for old people, delicate children, weak, run-down persons, after sickness, and for Chronic Coughs, Colds, Bronchitis, and all throat and lung troubles, Vinol is unexcelled.

No one wants an old-fashioned cod liver oil preparation or emulsion after once tasting delicious Vinol.

Try it on our guarantee to return your money if it fails to give satisfaction.

CURE YOUR KIDNEYS.

Do Not Endanger Life When a Maysville Citizen Shows You the Cure.

Why will people continue to suffer the agonies of kidney complaint, backache, urinary disorders, lameness, headaches, languor, why allow themselves to become chronic invalids, when a certain cure is offered them?

Doan's Kidney Pills is the remedy to use, because it gives to the kidneys help they need to perform their work.

If you have any, even one, of the symptoms of kidney diseases cure yourself now, before diabetes, dropsy or Bright's disease sets in. Read this Maysville testimony:

Mrs. E. Bridges, of 206 West Third Street, Maysville, Ky., says:

In March, 1900, I gave a testimonial recommending Doan's Kidney Pills. I had been troubled with a lame back and weak kidneys from girlhood and in my efforts to find a cure tried many different remedies, but without benefit until I began using Doan's Kidney Pills, which I procured at J. Jas Wood & Son's Drugstore. They went right to the cause of the trouble and as a result brought relief that led me to testify in their favor. I have never been without Doan's Kidney Pills in the house since. Every spring I take a box whether symptoms of kidney trouble are apparent or not, and in this way keep my kidneys in good condition.

For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents a box; Foster-McIlhenn Co. Buffalo, N. Y., sole agents for the United States. Remember the name—Doan's—and take no other.

The lone situation in Southern Indiana is still serious.

The Panama Canal Commission declares it has all the working force it needs.

CLARENCE L. SALLEE

Prominent and Brilliant Member of the Mason County Bar to Be Laid at Rest Today

The grim specter of Death may take the infant, the child, the woman, wife or mother—all shock the human heart, but when Death knocks at the door of the man of family and calls the father, who by the sweat of his face or the strength of his mind, has toiled and slaved and saved for his loved ones and prematurely wears out his vitality that his kindred may enjoy the comforts and the luxuries of his life-work, does not that seem doubly lamentable?

Could not the Master spare the parent yet a brief few years, to grant the struggling one the little boon of seeing his promising offsprings grow to mature manhood and womanhood and well established in this work-a-day world?

No! Question not the ineffable wisdom, mercy and power of the All-Wise, for we knoweth not of these things; we only know that it is right because God wills it so.

For men do work and women do weep; Thus runs the world away.

Clarence L. Sallee was cut down right in the prime of his noble manhood and in the very midst of the harvest of his life-work in his chosen profession—the law.

He possessed the judicial temperament to the fullest degree and was therefore peculiarly fitted by nature, education and training to shine and succeed as an Attorney, where many of us would have listlessly failed and dropped from the ranks, defeated for lack of the requisite personal fitness, tact, talent and ability.

Mr. Sallee possessed all these qualifications, and we believe we speak truthfully when we declare that no member of the profession in the history of the Mason County Bar ever in the brief few years ever attained the eminent measure of success which marked the legal career of the subject of this article.

He possessed, besides, a most equable, lovable and amiable Christian disposition and sank to his eternal rest with a personal character unimpaired by any outward or inward appearance of evil. As a husband, father, brother and worthy Christian citizen, he goes to his long rest today deeply loved by his kindred and universally esteemed and regretted by his numerous friends and acquaintances.

As a barrister practicing before the Courts of Mason and adjoining counties, he enjoyed the highest consideration at the hands of Judge, Juries and his fellow lawyers.

He was ever the wise, safe, quiet and logical counsellor who made the cause of his client his own, and always put that devotion and energy into a case which characterizes the conscientious and alert attorney.

Lawyer Sallee was as little addicted to the mean, little underhand trickeries of the profession as any practitioner before the Kentucky Bar.

He loved his work and his co-laborers loved and esteemed him to the fullest extent. Now that he has been so suddenly and so untimely summoned before the Bar of God, there to rest his case before the Supreme of all Tribunals, can we not believe that his life in this vale of work and tears will be a plea so filled with good deeds, good intentions and faithful service for Church, family, home and his fellowman, that the Master will throw wide to him the gates of eternal Hope and welcome his soul into the realms of everlasting peace.

The pupils of Summit together with their handsome young teacher enjoyed a Valentine reception at that place Friday. The contents of the box disclosed many missives of youthful love and innocence, while others were more grotesque. A little fellow on being accused of sending one of the latter, responded: Naw me didn't, then being still further accused of it being his mother's writing, responded: "Naw her didn't, I wrote myself." Besides this youthful enjoyment the day has a deeper significance. It commemorates the death of St. Valentine, a religious adherent, who was beheaded by the Romans under King Claudius more than two hundred years ago.
Wednesday, February 12th, was the 99th anniversary of our sixteenth President, "Honest Abe" as he was familiarly called. He was born on February 12th, 1809, in a little log shanty on the Big South Fork river in Hardin county, Ky., and was assassinated April 14th, 1865, by John Booth at Ford's Theater at Washington. We cannot commemorate the memory of this great man enough, who was born and reared in poverty receiving his education from a small country school and about one half dozen books, yet he grew to the highest position in the United States and his noble character sets a good example for many of the present day.

Judge Whitaker had an audience yesterday afternoon that filled the Council Chamber from wall to wall, they were actually packed together like sardines in a box. The occasion was the bringing before the bar of justice Ollie Carter, charged with a serious offense. RELIANCE IN CUTICURA
PROVED WELL-FOUNDED

"About twelve or fifteen years ago, while living in West Virginia, I had a breaking-out, and it itched and stung so badly that I could not have any peace because of it. I saw three doctors and they did not agree on what it was, so one of them gave me something that he called medicine, but I called it soda water. I might just as well have washed in rain-water. Then I got some Cuticura Soap, Cuticura Ointment, and Cuticura Resolvent and began to get better right away. They cured me and I have not been bothered with the itching since, to amount to anything. About two years ago I had a gripe and pneumonia which left me with a pain in my side. Treatment ran it into my leg, which then swelled and began to break out. It got in pretty bad shape, so I went to a doctor. He was afraid it would turn to blood-poison. I used his medicine but it did no good. So I sent for another set of the Cuticura Remedies. I used them three times and cured the breaking-out on my leg. Now I won't be without Cuticura. J. F. Hennen, R. F. D. 3, Milan, Mo., May 13, 1907."

MRS. LUCRETIA TAYLOR CARTMELL.

Another representative citizen passed away last evening in the person of Mrs. Lucretia Taylor Cartmell, who died at her residence in West Front street at 8:15 o'clock, after a ten days illness with grip.

The deceased was born in Lewis county April 10th, 1824, and was the daughter of Charles and Achsah Wood, and the widow of Doctor S. M. Cartmell, formerly one of Maysville's most widely known physicians.

Her marriage to the late Dr. Cartmell occurred in 1849 and no couple residing in Maysville had been held in higher esteem during their long residence here than had Dr. and Mrs. Cartmell.

Surviving this good woman to mourn a mother's loss are Mrs. B. F. Wolfe of Dallas, Texas, Misses Elizabeth and Charlotte Cartmell and Dr. J. W. and Mr. Robert M. Cartmell of this city. Her husband passed away on August 4th, 1896.

Mrs. Cartmell was a member of the First Presbyterian Church, and her large circle of relatives and friends thoroughly appreciated the many graces of the mind and character of this venerable lady.

The arrangements for the funeral had not been completed when THE LEDGER went to press.

The home of Evangelist J. E. Reed in Limestone street was the scene of considerable commotion last evening caused by the bad action of a lamp, that was fortunately discovered by a passerby on the street in time to prevent a conflagration and serious results.

The readers of this paper will be pleased to learn that there is at least one dreaded disease that science has been able to cure in all its stages, and that is Catarrh. Hall's Catarrh Cure is the only positive cure now known to the medical fraternity. Catarrh being a constitutional disease, requires a constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system, thereby destroying the foundation of the disease, and giving the patient strength by building up the constitution and assisting nature in doing its work. The proprietors have so much faith in its curative powers that they offer One Hundred Dollars for any case that it fails to cure. Send for list of testimonials.
